THE LEGION ADDS UP THE SCORE

After the Remembrance Day ceremonies last year editorial comment came from scores of justifiably indignant editors regarding the lack of attention given to this statutory holiday by government and industry alike.

With Remembrance Day again approaching and thousands of citizens across Canada preparing to attend men-food coupons handed out to live on, minds many to add up the score

It is just over two short years ago that the final shot in the recent conflict was fired. It is well for all to stop and think what would be our position today had we been on the short end of the Armistice terms.

We wouldn't have any labor troubles today. There just wouldn't be any existing unions with the right to strike or bargain.

Everyone would work for "the Party" or else there would not be any food coupons handed out to live on.

There would be no such thing as a free press, truth would be stifled, our literature abolished and in a generation our perspective considerably changed.

Our children would grow up in a school chanting the praises of Der Fuehrer who would be their God. Children thus indoctrinated would eventually turn even against their parents.

No automobile would drive unless a Party sticker was on the windshield.

Our free churches would be closed. We would listen to music only by so called Aryan composers.

We wouldn't have to worry about the York-Sunbury by-election, that would all be arranged for us.

There are a thousand and one other items that could be listed which would make our lives not worth living.

Today we have freedom and democracy as we live it. It might have cost the taxpayers many millions of dollars to buy this right, it also cost in two wars more than 100,000 young lives and well over 20,000 wounded bodies. That's a lot of life and a lot of suffering.

Surely it's not asking much that we give one day a year to revere their memory.

HOCKEY CLUB MEETING

Next Monday night is the annual meeting of the hockey club in town, and since the game is in such a state of flux in Strathmore, we hope that there will be a good turn-out, to help the season off to a good start.

The Hockey Clubs have been functioning after a fashion for the past few years, but it has been with difficulty, and without much public support. What they really need most of all is to see the public behind them. And this year more than ever this is the case. The rinks needs fixing up, the players are few, and the funds, for at least one team, are not over-flowing.

Time was when Strathmore had good teams, and good crowds. And while the players may have drifted off to other places, we think there is just as good material coming along as there ever was. All that is really needed is a crowd in there in support. Let's hope that Monday's meeting produces more interest.

LIBELLING THE LUMBERJACK

"Accountants may be the smartest of our occupational groups." This is the modest observation of the Canadian Chartered Accountant, after it points out that a U. S. army test of over $0,000 men representing 227 civilian classifications, gave representatives of its profession highest rating; lumberjacks the lowest.

Says The Financial Post— "We don't know whether candidates were asked a series of trick questions, told to add up a string of figures or merely had the bumps in their craniums counted. One thing, however, is certain. These guinea pigs were not given a razor-sharp axe and told to go out in the bush and make themselves at home. Knowing what lumberjacks have contributed to the development of this country, we can't help being sceptical of any test that rates them at the bottom."

FARMING—OUT-OF-DATE

The following was taken from an old time "Losing Out Sale" auction bill circulated in the district;

HORSES—One spavined mare, 39 years old; one iron grey mare with false teeth, always 5 years old; 1 brown worked horse; one man-eating jackass shod with giant grip horse-shoes; one running horse, runs at the nose.

MACHINERY—One rolling pin, badly used; one J. I. C. riding separator, with mortgage attached; one McCormick binder in foal; two Holstein sulky plows, fresh by sale date; one sulky rake; one sulky wife; seven post holes; six cylinder stoneboat with power takeoff and one thoroughbred grinder stone.

Remembrance Day, 1947

We bow our heads in reverent, silent pride,
For comrades brave who for their country died;
We mourn their loss as brothers to us dear
And write their names in sacred mem'ry here.

With light of youth gleaming in their eyes
They marched to war and paid the Victor's price;
They loved their life, yet loving freedom more,
They heard its call, defended Britain's shore.

In many lands white crosses row on row
Where heroes' graves have sacred earth and show
The price for freedom paid and country's love;
All-hallowed ground and valour's final proof.

What is this thing, O Man, that plagues thine heart?
Thou canst not seem to learn that finer art
Of peace and life, but choose strife instead
Till without shame canst thou thy millions dead!

Open thine eyes and look, behold and see!
That war can never make the nations free!
That man with man, unarmed, and land with land
As brothers all in faith and love must stand.

Be loyal then to visions which they saw—
A world that's free from strife and ruled by law,—
The law of love, and not the rule of might
Can make a peaceful world and life more bright.

NEWSPAPER COMMENT

Herewith are given condensations of newspapers editorial comment on the fixing of $2 a bushel as the price for 140 million bushels of Canadian wheat to be sold to the United Kingdom during 1948-49 crop year.

The Lethbridge Herald recalls that $2 wheat after the first great war resulted in an increased acreage in Canada to around 28 million acres, after which took hold of the market. The price is to vary with the wheat needs, it is to avoid wheat gambling and to maintain as largely as possible the proper balance as between wheat and livestock on our farms. Says the Herald, "It is to be hoped that the promise of wheat in 1948 does not bring about a wheat boom which will upset the agricultural economy of the west in the years to come."

The Edmonton Journal states, "Much has been made of the fact that the Canadian farmer has been forced to take on an average $1 a bushel less for his wheat during the past 14 months than he would have received had open market conditions remained in Canada." The paper has emphasized this aspect of the agreement, one can be sure, will be very quiet if it should happen that the world price during the rest of the 1948-49 crop year is too low and remains below the $2 level."

Farm organizations generally are still strongly behind the United Kingdom wheat agreement for they rightly fear that if it were not for this arrangement such as went to the grain exchanges of the world in 1939 and 1941 and left the wheat producer in a most unhappy situation."

The Winnipeg Free Press, "The arrangement is meant that the second round of the grain surplus in wheat has now begun. A third and final year of the agreement—the crop year 1949-50—If $2 per bushel for 1948-49 is Mr. Gardner's idea of how accounts can be squared, the pledge given by him so frequently is a long, long way from fulfillment."

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Lilla and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Desjardine attended the Tombola in Strathmore Wednesday.

Mrs. Lorette Voerman and baby visited with Mrs. Geo. Desjardine Monday.

Elmer Sanders and Leroy were visitors at Mr. and Mrs. George McLean's Saturday.

Mr. A. Mac visited with Mr. and Mrs. P. Tower over the week end.

Mrs. George McLean entertained a few friends one evening last week.

There has been a lot of flu in the district. We wish all inflicted a speedy recovery.

FARMER'S COLUMN

— R. J. MILLIGAN —

Last week I wrote about soil conservation and that it naturally leads to soil reclamation. It was understood that by cutting the heavy straw or trash, it could be worked into the soil more readily than before.

Some of our soils are getting more difficult to work and maintain. Several reasons result in this condition. An example would be the depletion of soil humus. As the humus becomes depleted, the soil bakes or hardens, thus reducing percolation of falling moisture or melting snow. It is realized by many farmers that a good substantial trash crop, preventing run-off and leaving the soil has lost much of its humus, the trash helps to hold the moisture and allow a greater absorption.

How can we build up our soils? Several methods are at our disposal, the best when conditions permit, is forage crops. In the drier parts of this Municipality, Created Wheat Grass does well, even to assist in choking out weeds. Where a straight grass mixture is for a pasture, it is good for plowing down an application when needed of 2-4D helps to control weeds. Bromegrass is a shallow rooted grass that does not add much to fibre the soil although it does give a very palatable hay. Grasses should be used for varied and nourishment of stock. The Created Wheat Grass and Creeping Red Fescue add the most to greater depths but Bromegrass is required for palatability. If not too dry, alfalfa and lucerne are good additions to the mixture. If adds nitrogen to the soil if the seed has been treated with nitrifying bacteria. When the roots die legumes such as alfalfa, after the leaves are cut, and clover should be green extensively on irrigated rotations. Authorities recommend Sweet Clover on land that is troubled with seepage or alkali.

An example of subsurface drainage was expressed out of our soil in Calgary recently. A farmer in the Olds-Ded Deer area harvested his crop when no one else could get on their land. This piece of land had been seeded to forage for several years before being plowed and then need irrigation. After the roots of the forage plants decomposed, they provided drainage and the decomposing roots of the grasses added abundant fibres and humus, making the soil friable and tilth excellent. The above is a practical example of an unusual benefit to be derived from rotations with forage crops.

I strongly recommend the use of a 11-48 fertilizer early in the spring on all forage fields in this way the fertility of the soil is built up in addition to fibre and humus being added.

There are many other examples of soil reclamation that can be discussed. A few would be contour farming, seedling down our drains and waterways, and contouring. Very few of our large grain farmers would take kindly to contour farming, therefore it behoves all of them to prevent water erosion which if left unchecked, will gully our farm lands to the point where contouring must be done.

Poker Language—

They say that a local minister one time had a "call" to go to another church, and Tommy Wright asked how much he was offered.

"Three hundred dollars" was the reply.

"Well, I don't blame you for going," remarked Tommy, "but you should be more exact in your language, parson. That isn't a 'call', that's a 'raise'."

Irene Giffen to vacuum cleaner salesmen at door: "I'm not interested. But try the people next door. We use theirs and it's terrible."

We were ambling along looking at the sunset when we came across Alice Polley's young'un, Beverley, looking half dead into the middle distance with a slight tear in her eye. We inquired solicitously what the trouble was and Beverley said with dignity "I am not on speaking terms with my mother."

Ronnie Hinckleff's indefinite definition: "Oleomargarine—a spread used by people who have been butter days."

Reminiscent of the days when it was easier to start a bank than it is now under present regulations. Milt Miller, who recently was asked how he happened to enter the banking business.

"Well," said the banker, I didn't have much else to do, so I rented an empty store and painted 'Bank' on the window. The first day I was open for business a man came in and deposited $100 with me: the second day another man dropped in and said $250.

And so, along about the third day, I got confidence enough in the bank to put in a hundred myself."

The trouble with keeping up with the Joneses, says Phyllis Gray, is that there is no end of Joneses.

"I want something for a young lady, a birthday gift," said Willard Seltz. "What would you suggest?"

"Well," said Jane Blasare, "how about some book ends?"

"Splendid!" was Willard's enthusiastic reply. "Give me half a dozen of your beat ends—that's usually the only part she reads."

"So you suffer from indigestion," said Gladys Crelin, helpfully. "Well, what could be better than drinking a pint of warm water after every meal?"

"Indigestion," was Delta Marshall's grim reply.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Editor:
Dear Sir—

In the ceremonies relative to the start of a New Irrigation Project at MacLeod, two weeks ago, Mr. E. L. Smith, of the P. F. R. A., made the statement; "Let us not forget the man at the end of the long handled shovel." Mr. Taxpayer, you and I as common citizens, have forgotten him in this busy world in which we live. Our Legislature has forgotten him also.

Within the next decade our Provincial Government and Dominion Government will spend in the neighborhood of $100,000,000 on Irrigation Development here in the west, the St. Mary's Development, the Red Deer Development, etc., centre of one of our oldest and WHERE men are using to get the largest irrigated areas. The immigrants could see farms which have been under the water for twenty years. They could make full use of the Dominion Government Experiment Farm at Lethbridge is just across the road from the new irrigation camp.

The teen age boys and girls of today will be the farmers of tomorrow on these new lands. Mr. Taxpayer is up to you and me, as to what we can do to help them, the best chance possible. They cannot do it successfully unless they have the training; WATER alone is not enough. Contact your Board of Directors, see that they send Members and express to them what you want. Our Government is progressive, yet at times they need directions as to the wishes of the people.

ACT today, NOT tomorrow or next week, these buildings may soon be converted to other uses. Proper Irrigation means money in YOUR pocket no matter what your business, it means increased population, it means crop security, it will sum up to STABILITY, get busy. We have the Long Handled Shovel, but the BRAINS or the know how, to properly direct it.

on light tough aluminum

BEEEN in a top shop lately? Or a hardware store? Or a sporting goods department? Then you have noticed the amazing number of things now being made with Aluminum — skates and scooters, knitting needles and clothes pins, cookers and cocktail shakers and curtain rods.

Aluminum is today one of the four most widely used metals in the world . . . for a lot of reasons. It has brought new beauty into architecture and into the kitchen. Its lightness has made work easier — and enabled planes to fly higher and faster.

It has the strength to build bridges — and to take the beating a two-year-old gives his toys . . . It is the metal of the Twentieth Century.

$ One hundred years ago
Aluminum was more valuable than gold.

Today its low cost creates thousands of everyday uses.

At Arvida, Canada, the largest Aluminum smelter in the world can produce two million pounds of ingots a day. Result: (1) Aluminum costs less in Canada than anywhere else in the world;
(2) nine out of every ten pounds are available for export. Today Canadian Aluminum is sold in every country in the world — is a major factor in providing Canada with needed purchasing

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by Don Graham

Can shyness be overcome?

Indeed it can! And every bit of progress one makes in this direction is of great benefit. For an effective personality is an asset in almost every occupation, particularly in smaller communities where commercial and social contacts so often overlap.

According to Dr. Henry C. Link, eminent psychologist, personality is best developed by "learning to do an increasing number of things for and with people".

For example, you may have no interest in playing bridge. But if you do, it will help you to develop poise because you have acquired a new skill and are brought into contact with other people. And this contact is made easier for you because you will be engrossed in "doing something with them".

Taking part in other games, sports, club life, town council meetings or activities with other people will help cure your shyness. And this, in turn, will help you achieve greater success in your work.

The life insurance companies in Canada play an important part in the economic life of the nation. Every year over 250 million life insurance dollars are invested in farms and industries, apartment and office buildings, and other projects which promote progress and create jobs.

REVIEW OF THE NEW FILMS

Mr. H. P. Brown Supervisor of Division of Visual Instruction

Two new lists of films have recently been issued by the department of Extension of the University of Alberta. One is of recent additions to the film library and the other, a list of Free Films. This free list is of films loaned by various local organizations and Government departments including travel films, health and safety films on Home Economics and Agriculture and films on the rehabilitation of ex-service men and women.

In the general list of new additions, emphasis is placed on films for recreation, and on specific games and sports. A very excellent film dealt with CYCLING and its recreation program and is called PLAYTOWN U.S.A. This is a clear travelling 30 minutes to show. Another called PLAY-G-GER BUSINESS is on the operation of a golf course. There is a 23 minute film. Specific sports include PLAY BALL SON on baseball for boys, VOLLEYBALL FOR BOYS and SOCCER FOR GIRLS and a series of three single reel travel films on HIKING, FISHING, and FOOT WORK and SHOOTING. Other films are available dealing with swimming and life saving. There are also films using a sports background such as WORKING FOR

CANADIAN ART GALLERIES

Last fall, the public and high schools of Calgary were joint recipients of a group of 11 paintings, the work of local and Western Canadian artists.

These paintings were generously presented by various Calgary business firms under a project sponsored by the local branch of the Federation of Canadian Artists, and in view of the small allotment of funds available to the School Board for the acquisition of pictures, this filled a very useful and important need.

By providing original artwork at a considerably lower cost than designing many forms of sports and their equipment and a series of easier travel films from the Rockies and a coast to coast trip from the Cariboo.

SERIES OF THREE films on "How to Train Your Dog" are of special interest. First there is a children's PUPPY TROUBLE then BASIC OBEDIENCE INSTRUCTION and ADVANCED OBEDIENCE. These three and a new handicraft film include LEATHER MAKING and CRAFTSMEN AT WORK, the latter a new National Film Board color film on the handicraft arts of Nova Scotia, and a new film on the Indians of the same source is KLEED WYCK showing the work of Emily Carr among the Indians of B.C. A new music film has come from England and deals with INSTRUMENTS OF THE ORCHESTRA with Dr. Malcolm Sargent conducting the London Symphony Orchestra.

Three timely one reel instructional films for school and general use are DEMOCRACY, DESPOTISM, PUBLIC OPINION and safety films are outstanding. TEACH THEM TO DRIVE on the training of High School students in safe driving and THEY DIDN'T HAVE TO DIE a reel on the dangers of lead paint and other compounds at home. Several March of Time releases have been added to the Extension Department library, including films on IRELAND, CHINA, GREECE and ITALY other subjects include CANADA, AMERICAN MEN OF MEDICAL SCIENCE.

Among the Free Films are three on Visual Aids in teaching, Red Cross Films and films on diseases including TB, diphtheria, syphilis, cancer and leprosy. Information concerning these films may be obtained on writing to the Division of Visual Instruction, Department of Extension, University of Alberta. Where a school or community organization has a visual exhibit arrangements could be made for voluntary protection services in the cities and travelling representatives of the National Film Board at country points for protector and operator at Home and School meetings.

different mediums, the added advantage for the study of technique is apparent over those which are mechanically reproduced. Also having the works of our own western artists in the schools lends greater interest to them for the reason that they were inspired by the local scene and by demonstrating our potentialities in respect to this type of development. The much needed stimulus of material encouragement given to the artists themselves is also of importance.

Each of the paintings in this group was accompanied by a brief thesis to provide essential data for subsequent lectures by the teaching staff and it was intended that the paintings be rotated among the various schools so that all would benefit equally.

As there are some 40 odd schools in Calgary, the pictures so far provided in this way are scarcely adequate in number and we are therefore glad to learn that this project is again under way to build up the present group. It is to be hoped that gradually a fine collection will be established from the present nucleus.
